

Fires from Heaven: World Governments are Preparing

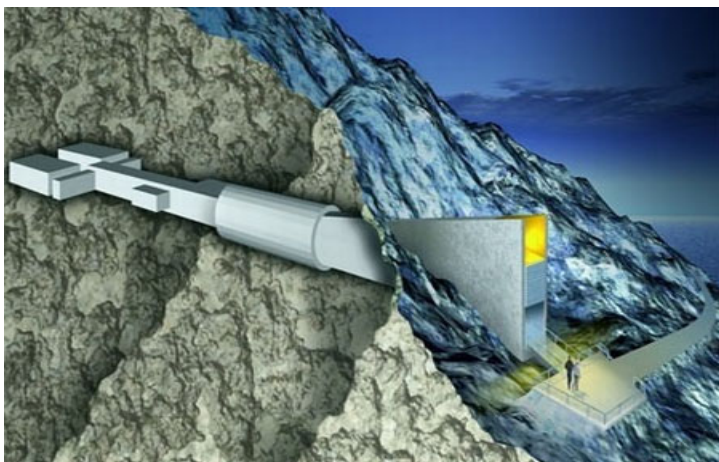

The scriptures tell us that the earth will be destroyed three times. As you know, the first time the earth was destroyed by water during the days of Noah in which Noah and his family were protected from God's wrath. The purpose of this destruction was to purge unrepentant man from the earth and to restore His order.

The next time the earth will be destroyed it will be by fire in which the Lord will purge unrepentant man from the earth to restore His order again. I'd like to focus this article on the second and approaching destruction of the earth. There is scarcely a day that passes in which we don't hear of events around the world which continue to lay the foundation for the final days as described in His Word. However, the scriptures also talk about geographic and cosmic events that will devastate the earth. Is the foundation for these cataclysmic events being laid down as well and shouldn't we be watchful of them? Yes, they are! In fact, these cosmic events have already begun, and they are happening in the heavens around us.

What the World Governments Know that Most Don't

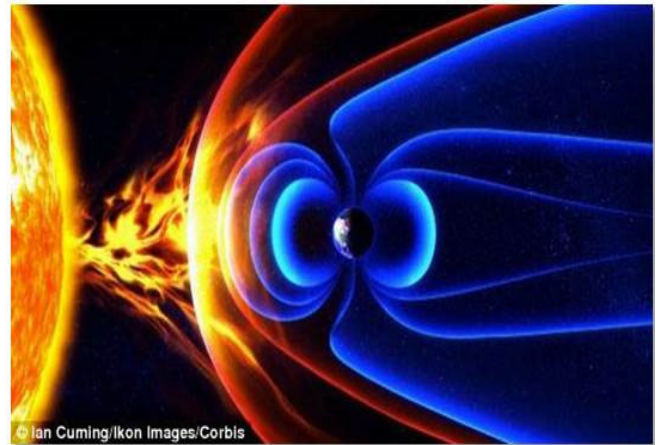

If God utilizes His creation to carry out his will, then we know we're already started to see the makings of this event unfold before our very eyes. In fact, you could argue that many governments and various space agencies already know what's coming. IN FACT, THEY ARE PREPARING FOR IT!

In the last few years governments all over the globe have built over 1,000 doomsday seed vaults. The largest that we know about is the Norwegian vault on the island of Spitsbergen in the Arctic Circle cut 390 ft into the frozen mountain 430 ft above sea level. It has the capacity to store 4.5 million seeds. In addition, many governments are building massive underground bunkers and even small cities carved in mountains and in rock underground for their leadership.

You've probably heard that our magnetic field protects us from solar activity and that the chances of earth being hit by a catastrophic CME is nearly impossible. It is possible that both these statements were perhaps true in the past but that may no longer be the case.

Normally we are protected by our magnetic field which keeps the high energy particle emissions from the sun from hitting the earth. It is an invisible shield which diverts those particles around the earth ... but this is rapidly changing.

Earth's magnetic field is starting to weaken. The European Space Agency has a satellite array called Swarm which monitors solar activity and they openly reported on July 9, 2014, that during the prior 6 months that the magnetic field protecting the earth has been dramatically weakening. NASA also announced that the field is collapsing at an accelerating rate. This is what has been protecting earth from the sun's dangerous particle emissions. Without this shield more x-ray emissions from the sun will reach earth. Additionally, in the last 12 years, the burst x-ray emissions from the sun have been so intense that most of the satellites could not measure them as they did not have scales large enough to account for such intense emissions. NASA expanded the radiation emission scales and measuring instruments over a hundred-fold to measure the new emissions. Not only has the sun's activity become more unpredictable over the last 100 years but we've witnessed some of the largest X-class flares in the history of modern civilization. God is also allowing us to see these increased emissions and the decreasing magnetic field of earth for a reason.

On July 23, 2012, a massive CME ejected from the sun and crossed through earth's orbital path just behind the earth only missing us by one week! If the flare had erupted one week earlier, earth would have been squarely hit. This CME blast from the sun was so massive that NASA refers to it as "The Solar Superstorm of July 2012" and tells us that if it hit us, it would have knocked our modern civilization back to the 18th century. This would mean the loss of all modern communications, satellites and potentially all our power grids worldwide. It would take decades for us to recover. By the time we could recover the world would have already been thrown into a mad-max scenario with most dying of starvation. Of course, this could not happen because God tells us what is going to happen instead. God again allowed us to see this CME burst which nearly missed us. It's another clear sign that we are approaching the last days and the stage is being set.

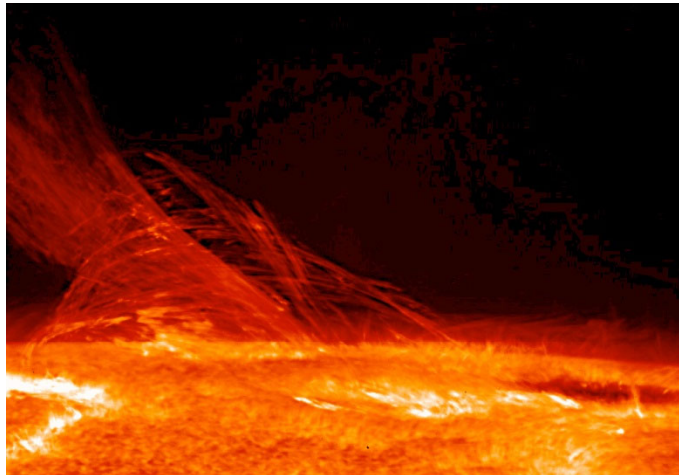

THE NEAR MISS CME BURST WASN'T TOLD THE PUBLIC TILL 1.5 YEARS LATER. We now know what the governments of the world saw and why they started constructing massive seed vaults and underground cities. NASA has also launched a pair of satellites they call STEREO (one ahead of earth in its orbit and the other trailing behind) which both focus on the sun to create a 3D model to see future CME emissions bursts approaching. This will give ample warning of an approaching CME blast towards earth to move hundreds of thousands of already pre-chosen individuals into mini underground “cities” which are already built around the world and here in the United States.

1st Fire from Heaven Destroys 1/3rd of Vegetation

“The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up” (Rev 8:7). The verse is very clear as to what happens! 1/3rd of the land mass of the planet is suddenly destroyed by fire. That includes all people, plants, animals, cities, and all traces of civilization!

John’s wording is compact and precise and tells us what John was seeing. Based on the exact wording of the text what we are seeing a Coronal Mass Ejection shot from the sun and hitting the earth! Let’s take a close look at the words John uses and see why he uses them. The surface of the sun consists of Thick, dense, super-heated Plasma (a 4th state of Matter). Think of the surface of the sun as dense liquid FIRE burning at around 10,000 deg F. Don’t think of it as having a surface that is on fire – but is literally fire through and through (ie, like a lake of fire and not a lake on fire).

CMEs are always being emitted from the sun but should a large one we sent our way and reach the earth the first thing that this dense superheated plasma would do would be to push away earths’ atmosphere. This would expose the stratosphere to the -150 deg F freezing cold of space which would then instantly crystalize all the moisture within the stratosphere. As the CME pressure wave continue to push through the atmosphere it would compress the ice crystals massive hail balls (“and there followed hail and fire”). As the CME continues and plunges into the Troposphere it then vaporizes all airplanes, birds and flying insects (“mingled with blood”). Airplanes are made with aluminum shells which melt at 1,200 deg F, and the temperature of the plasma would be in excess of 10,000 deg F which is many times that. All aircraft in flight and their passengers would be incinerated. It is estimated that on an average day there are upwards of 50,000 airplanes (commercial and private) flying above the United States alone. The CME would then finally reach the surface of the earth (“and they were cast upon the earth”) where the viscous liquid fire would spread like water over the land seeping into every crack burning up everything it its path (“and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up”). As you can see, John’s description is exactly what you would expect as a CME blast from the sun hitting the earth would cause.

Which third of earth is destroyed? Since after this event, the scriptures discuss the areas occupied by Africa, China, Russia, Europe and the Middle East, we can only surmise that all of North and South America is destroyed. This seems logical since many theologians say that they don’t see the United States in prophecy after this point. It no longer exists! The only problem is that North, Central, and South America represent only 28% of the area indicated as being destroyed so there will be other isolated places which will also be burnt up, so the total reaches 1/3rd of the planet. The event would also kill everything it touched. If North, Central and South America are the primary land masses being destroyed, the over one billion souls living there would also be killed.

2nd Fire from Heaven Destroys 1/3rd of Life in the Ocean

“And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea became blood. And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed” (Rev 8:8-9).

The most common theory is that this is a meteor strike from outer space that impacts an ocean. This theory is an example of how most theologians themselves understand that God uses nature to carry out His will. The rest of the world does not see God’s hand in it as to them it’s just a natural unfortunate event. There are however several problems with the meteor strike theory:

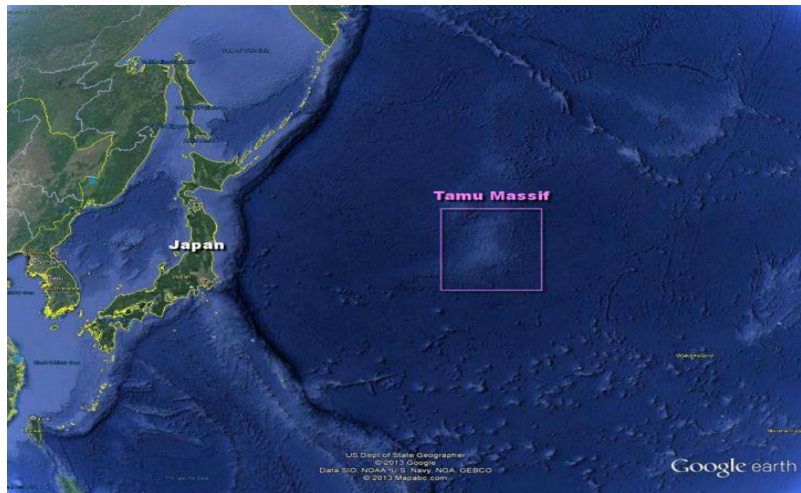

1. A meteor isn’t in the shape of a ‘mountain’. Space rocks are somewhat round and not shaped like a mountain or pyramid.
2. A meteor can’t be burning with fire in space as there is no oxygen in space
3. If a “burning” meteor hit the ocean whatever fire it may have moving through our atmosphere would be snuffed out by the water upon impact
4. After reviewing the scriptural wording of the first CME being ‘cast upon the earth’ (from heaven) we don’t see that type of wording here. It simply says that it was cast into the sea.
5. If it were a meteor, the wording that would most likely be used would be that which was used to describe the CME in verse 7 or the falling star in verse 10 (‘star from heaven’).
6. The passage says that one third of the creatures living in the sea would perish. The focus is not on killing man nor the billions of people that live near the oceans in large cities by tsunamis. If a meteor was so large that its impact could kill a third of all the sea life in all the oceans, then that impact would also destroy the earth as an extinction level event. At the very least it would kill most of the human population on earth as most live within a hundred miles of a coastline by tsunamis and ALL the ships on earth (not just 1/3rd).

So, if it’s not a meteor than what is the ‘great mountain burning with fire’ and how does it get into the ocean and how does it destroy 1/3rd of all life? I’m here to suggest to you that this is in fact underwater volcanism. John sees a burning mountain cast in the sea. This sounds like a perfect description of an underwater volcano being cast into the sea by arising up from the bottom of the ocean floor into it! The fire would then be lava, volcanic ash and poisonous gasses pouring out which would spread, killing all sea life it came in contact with. Volcanoes spew poison and continuously pollute their environment as long as they are active. And remember, this event is intended to kill sea life and not focused on humans. It also takes out a third of the ships which could be caused by the same volcanic ash in the waters destroying the ships engines and rendering them useless.

There are over 1 million volcanoes are estimated to exist under the ocean's surface; far more than what we have on land. BUT in fact, it might only take ONE super volcano to do the damage! John saw "A MOUNTAIN". A single underwater volcano is the focus – and one was recently found! A few years ago, William Sager, a professor at the University of Houston, led a team of scientists in the discovery of the largest volcano on Earth!

It is underwater and approx. 1,000 miles east of Japan in the Pacific Ocean. The volcano is about the size of the state of New Mexico and is also among the largest in the solar system. It covers an area of about 120,000 square miles. In comparison, the largest active volcano on land is located in Hawaii and it only covers 2,000 square miles. (That makes it 60 times bigger than the world's largest land-based volcano).

If such a super volcano were to violently erupt it would easily be able to generate enough poison and underwater ash to destroy 1/3rd of all the marine life in all the oceans as well as render useless 1/3rd of man's ships while not killing a significant number of persons. The reference to a third of the oceans becoming as blood could be seen in the same fashion as the moon becoming as blood on the land in a later event. The moon seen through ash appears red and ash in the water would likewise look as red depending on the compounds and minerals in it. [I want to make it clear that I am NOT saying that the Tamu Massif underwater super volcano is what the scripture is referring to. The scriptures don't tell us; however, I wished to only point out that this volcano is a possible candidate.]

Volcanic activity can be caused by tectonic activity. There is not only a huge concentration of tectonic activity and volcanism located on the Ring of Fire around the Pacific Ocean, but the number of larger earthquakes is becoming more frequent. This too is a sign that the stage is being set for the fulfilment of events foretold in Revelation.

3rd Fire from Heaven Destroys 1/3rd of Life on the Land

“And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters; And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.” (Rev 8:10-11)

The great star is clearly indicated to fall from the stellar heavens to earth and is seen by John as ‘burning’.

This event is perhaps the most clear of all. There are meteors what fall from heaven and pollutes a third of all the fresh water on earth. In order to accomplish this, the great asteroid, named Wormwood, most likely splits up and impacts earth around the globe as no single place contains a third of all the fresh water on the planet but is distributed around the globe.

Since our technologically based society has long disappeared with events preceding the first fire, there are very limited ways in which the poisons can be filtered out to provide drinking water. Animals living on the land have no way to avoid the poison so a third of them remaining around the planet would die.

God’s Sequence of Destruction is Systematic and Orderly

We have only talked about the first three judgements (all include fire) which correspond to the first three trumpets after the seventh seal is opened. Where Genesis 1 shows us how God created the heavens and earth, Revelation 8 shows us how He starts to systematically judge that creation after it has fallen and been corrupted under the domain of Satan. I’d like to briefly compare for you the days of creation and see if there is any correspondence to the first three trumpet judgments we just discussed.

Prior to the days of creation in Genesis 1, the world was without form and void (Gen 1:2). God uses the first three days of creation to fix the “form” problem by giving form to (1) “the heavens”, (2) “the seas”, and (3) “the land”:

Day 1: Defines form for the heavens: Let there be Light & divided the light from the darkness.

Day 2: Defines form for the atmosphere & oceans: Let there be a firmament and divided the waters from under the firmament from above the firmament.

Day 3: Defines form for the land: Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together in one place (seas) and let dry land appear (earth). God tells the earth to bring forth grass and vegetation (but as of now there is no sun for them to grow).

God then uses the last three days of creation to fix the “void” problem where he populates the (4) “heavens”, (5) “the seas”, and (6) “the land”:

Day 4: Fixes the void problem for the heavens: Let there be the “light holders” (sun, moon, stars) in the heavens to divide the day from the night. Now that there is light from the sun, the grass and vegetation can grow and are now covering the earth.

Day 5: Fixes the void problem for the atmosphere & oceans: Let the waters abound with an abundance of sea animals and birds that fly above the earth; and that they should multiply after their kind.

Day 6: Fixes the void problem for the land: Let the earth bring forth living creatures according to its kind: cattle and creating things and beast of the earth, each according to their kind.

When we compare the sequence of the first three trumpet judgments in Revelation with the sequence of the days of creation in Genesis, we see that the earth is being made less ‘populated’ in the exact same sequence in which it was populated on days four, five and six.

1st Trumpet: (reversing day 4 of creating)

Fire cast to earth – 1/3rd of trees and grass burned

2nd Trumpet: (reversing day 5 of creation)

Great Mountain cast into the sea – 1/3rd of sea life dies

3rd Trumpet: (reversing day 6 of creation)

Great star falls to earth – 1/3rd of rivers and fountains turned bitter consequently causing a third of all land-dwelling animals to die

Our Heavenly Father is a God of Order and not Chaos. There is an order to everything God does including the process in which he pours out his wrath on the unrepentant world to restore His order once again in preparation for his millennial reign.

Why is this important for us to know?

Many Christians will express the view that this information is not relevant to them as we will be raptured prior to the Wrath of God. While it is true that the rapture will occur before these events the “Revelation of Jesus Christ” (book of Revelation) is meant for us to understand the events of the end of days and for us to use that knowledge to look for the season He is to return. We will not know the day nor the hour, but we are instructed to know the signs of His return. Christ provides us information about events which will occur on earth, both politically, religiously, economically, and socially and we see all these merging to set the final stage for the anti-christ. Christ also provides us information about events in the heavens and geographic changes on earth that we are to look for and we also see that the foundation for their fulfillment is developing in the heavens and geographically in the earth today. We know the time is near.

We know that “All Scripture is God Breathed, and Profitable for Doctrine, for Convincing, for Correction, for Discipline in Righteousness” (2 Tim 3:16 TPW) and also that “It is the glory of God to conceal a thing: but the honor of kings is to search out a matter” (Prov 25:2 KJV). Revelation is provided to us to not only reveal the events of the end time to be watchful of, but we are also provided a blessing if we read, hear, and keep those things that are written (Rev 1:3).

We are Required to Test Everything for Ourselves!

The principle we are to follow is for us to “You must be Proving in Truth All things.” (1 Thess 5:21a TPW). That includes all ministers, teaching, preaching, doctrines, sermons, writings, opinions, and practices. Examine all by the light of the Bible. Any teaching that is not 100% supported by ALL the Scriptures you are to reject wholly. Studying is not optional for Christians but required of God. In fact, we are commanded by God to “You must be Diligent by your choice, to Stand before God yourself Approved, a worker not ashamed, Straight Cutting the Word of Truth.” (2 Tim 2:15 TPW).

The problem is that there is no such thing as a perfect English translation that tells us exactly what God’s word is. There is always a discrepancy between the original Greek (NT in this case) to English and mankind has created more than 450 different English translations which have thousands of differences between themselves. So which version should you be studying if they are all saying different things? The best you can hope for is to find a translation that mirrors as closely as possible the original meanings of the scriptures.

How much easier would it be to study God’s Word if an English New Testament translation existed which took each of the original Koine Greek words and applied the original meaning along with the original parsing assigned to each of those words? This is something that even the King James scholars did not do because of the constraints placed on them by King James, their lack of knowledge of Greek, and their time constraints. The Pure Word is a New Testament reference that does just that! It is the perfect resource that every Christian should have to dive into God’s Word and use along with your preferred version of the Scriptures.

The Pure Word is a Resource All Christians Must Have!

The Pure Word is a word-by-word translation from the Textus Receptus Koine Greek (the exact same text that the 1611 KJV scribes used) to English and it also incorporated the original Greek Parsings which the King James scholars completely ignored because they didn’t understand them. Don’t get me wrong - The King James Version is an amazing translation, but the scribes didn’t go far enough because they simply couldn’t because of lack of knowledge. At the time of the 1600’s no one understood the majority of the Koine Greek root words used in the New Testament nor did they understand nor use the Greek parsings. It took another 260 YEARS before the Greek words were separated into their root components which was published by Strong in 1890. Without identifying the root words, the meanings they assigned to words in different verses constantly varied and had little to do with the true meaning of the text.

Not only that, but the scribes had no clear idea of what the Greek parsings were that were assigned to over 115,000 of the words (of the 140,745 total words). The purpose of the parsings is to provide text that could not be misinterpreted which then resulted in a crystal-clear message. Since they didn't use the parsings, the context and meaning of the English words they assigned constantly varied between verses and that gave rise to hundreds of denominations and disagreements which fragmented Christianity we see today. Their own letter to King James clearly states their frustration and their limitations in not knowing the words and their inconsistency in the final English text and they chalk it up to their "creative freedom or liberty". It wasn't until 260 years after the King James Version was compiled that the parsings of each of the 115,000 words were clarified and released in 1894 by Dr. Scrivener using upwards of 100 scholars spending decades of work on the task.

The Pure Word has taken each of the 5,624 Koine Greek root words and took the single primary meaning at the time of Christ of each word and directly substituted it into each use of the same root word. In addition, the precise parsings of each of the 115,000 words that were mostly ignored by the KJV scribes and nearly all scholars since, was applied to each word. This process removed all known discrepancies and provided a clarity of meaning that was never before possible.

I would strongly suggest that every Christian obtain a copy of The Pure Word and use it alongside your favorite Bible version to see the original meanings and open your eyes like never before. I humbly wouldn't even say it was a translation as verses were not "translated", but a Pure extraction from the Greek into English using the original meaning of each root word as closely as possible as it existed at the time of Jesus Christ and the Apostles along with the original parsings applied to each word.

May our Lord Bless you and lead you into a deeper understanding and relationship with Him,
